• Description ref n°7053 •

Stone village house, benefiting from modern comfort while displaying elements of character (a magnificent stone staircase, a large period fireplace, good height under the ceilings, exposed joists)

This home is located in a village with essential shops, a few minutes by car from Eymet and 20 minutes from Bergerac.

Although it runs along the main road in the heart of the village, the double-glazed joinery of the house reduces noise pollution (certain rooms of the house open onto the backyard)

The ground floor:

Spacious entrance with travertine floor and beautiful staircase

The 26m² living room opens onto the entrance, travertine floor, imposing stone fireplace with wood stove, windows with electric shutters

A hallway with individual toilet leads to the 7m² fitted scullery/laundry room with window and the recent 13m² kitchen. The room has a large bay opening onto the private courtyard located at the back of the house.

Cellar under part of the house

The floor:

Landing of 10m² with cupboard opening onto 3 bedrooms of 14.5m², 12m² and 12m², each with good ceiling height, parquet floor; a 9m² bathroom/wc with bathtub and shower

On the exterior side, the courtyard of approx. 30m² has independent access. Its north-west exposure makes it particularly appreciable on sunny days. Fully paved, it is easy to maintain.

The house is insulated in the attic, the rooms are equipped with electric radiators, but the current owners favor wood heating.

House connected to mains drainage.
