The owner declares that the convent is connected to mains drainage

Nestled on the outskirts of a picturesque village, this extraordinary former convent is a rare gem, brimming with architectural treasures and timeless elegance. Light filled rooms oozing with charm, the property boasts generous living spaces, including spacious bedrooms, a grand refectory that serves as a kitchen/dining and living area, and a former chapel, evoking a sense of historic grandeur.

Adding to its allure, a separate outbuilding has been thoughtfully converted into a charming self contained apartment

This building also benefits from luminous upstairs reception room or yoga/pilates area accessible via a private entrance.

The outbuilding opens to a secluded courtyard, leading to the mature gardens surrounding the property.

The estate also includes practical yet character-filled features: barns converted into garages, a workshop housing an old wash-house

The grounds further enchant with vegetable garden, fruit orchard, two wells, and underground rainwater reservoir, making the property as functional as it is beautiful.

Accessed through wrought-iron gates and a flower-lined driveway, the property is surrounded by magnificent parkland.

Towering trees over two centuries old and a breathtaking collection of fragrant rose bushes lend an air of enchantment to the landscape.

This unique property is a harmonious blend of historical splendor and idyllic countryside living – an absolute delight that must be seen to be truly appreciated.
